CHICAGO, Aug. 6.—Somewhere in Chicago there is a Cinderella slipper worth $1500. The Cinderella is the 6-year-old daughter of Mrs. I. Silverman, and her lost slipper holds diamonds valued at $1500, the property of her mother. Friday the child's slippers were thrown into the garbage can, and on Monday, when Mrs. Silverman wanted her diamonds, it was remembered they had been hidden in one of the slippers.

BURNING STREAM OF WHISKY SETS TOWN ON FIRE

MIDWAY, Ky., Aug. 6.—This town, half way between Lexington and Frankfort, was set on fire last night by 47,000 barrels of whisky, which flowed in a blazing mass from a burning distillery. The whisky turned a creek running through town into a stream of fire which destroyed the Southern Railway trestle and set fire to several cottages. Five warehouses of S. J. Greenbaum Distilling Company were destroyed. The loss is estimated at $500,000.

BOY BURGLAR KILLED BY POLICE

TWO WOMEN CLAIM AS HUSBAND THE MAN WHO POSED AS A PAUPER

DISAPPEARS AND DEAD BODY IS FOUND

Mystery Surrounds Youth Who Either Committed Suicide or Was Murdered—Leaves Strange Letter.

(Special to The Tribune.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 6.—The mystery surrounding the disappearance of William Lettice, the son of Mrs. Margaret Lettice of 223 Harrison street who disappeared on Saturday when he started to go to work in Oakland was cleared up this morning by the finding of the dead body in a lot at the corner of Harrison and Fremont streets.

All indications point to suicide. A letter left by the young man tells of his fear of returning home because he had lost all his money. The note is couched in such poor language that it is a matter of some doubt as to what actually befell him.

Andrew Boyd, an Irish worker came across the body while making a short cut through a lot at 6 o'clock this morning and turned it over to the police. The body was found in a lot at the corner of Harrison and Fremont streets. The young man had evidently been dead several hours. By his side lay an empty bottle of carbolic acid and a note in his hand, was his letter written on scraps of writing paper.

He bids a touching good-bye to his mother and sister Lily, but the mysterious part of the note is contained in the words: "They put me in the lot and I die." Although this part of the letter might seem to indicate that someone had done violence to him, the rest, plainly tells of suicide and expresses his hope of meeting his loved ones in another world.

WHY PERKINS SHOULD BE SUSTAINED AND RE-ELECTED

Editor TRIBUNE.—Alameda county should think twice before it joins the hue and cry against Senator Perkins. He is our fellow citizen. His long service in the Senate has been faithfully devoted to the interests of California. I question whether any Senator we have had has served our State as well. Every great interest of our people has felt the good effect of his official industry. His long service has given him an influence in the Senate which a new man must wait long to acquire. He is now in better position than ever to guard our interests in the important legislation that will be before the next Congress. We in Oakland have never appealed to him in vain to aid our aspiration for larger commercial facilities. What he has done for us in that respect has been done for the State, since the State has a vital stake in the equipment of its commercial outlets.

The history of States in their relation to the Federal government proves that their influence is gained and their interests are advanced by avoiding frequent changes in their members of Congress. When these changes are due to a change of party majorities, of course they are inevitable. But when restless and brawling agitation within one party insists without cause upon erratic changes in representation, the effect is disastrous upon every material interest of the people. Senator Perkins has so proved his worth to the State that he has had even Democratic support in the Legislature.

The internecine assault upon him has features repugnant to every lover of fair play and of a square deal. His fellow citizens should see to it that the State is not deprived now of his valuable experience and faithful industry by a campaign noisome with slander, falsehood and treachery. Very truly,
JNO. P. IRISH.

THE MOTHER AND ONE OF HER CHILDREN IN ONE OF THE TWO HOMES MAINTAINED BY CHARLES F. THOMPSON, OR CHARLES E. BROWN, ON CHARITY. THIS WOMAN BELIEVES SHE IS MRS. THOMPSON.

DUAL HOME LIFE ON PUBLIC ALMS

Police Find Pathetic Case of Deception—Children in One Home Dead, but in the Other Mother and Babies Believe in Father.

Living a dual life maintaining two homes in different parts of the city, appealing to charitable organizations and receiving assistance on many occasions in response to his pleas for his starving children, Charles F. Thompson, a carpenter was arrested at Eleventh and Bush streets by Detectives McSorley and Kyle and booked at the police station last night on a charge of vagrancy.

Two trusting women each of whom thought him her husband and did not doubt his fidelity even under the most trying circumstances have now been deceived. Neither of them for a moment suspected that he was an object of charity, a pauper upon the gift of both the Catholic Humane Bureau and the Associated Charities.

HIS TWO HOMES

In one of his homes this man lived as Charles F. Thompson was 712 1/2

Eleventh street, where a little woman and two young children have called him husband and father.

In the other one of his homes the man lived as Charles E. Brown. This was at 917 Twenty-fourth street, and there another pretty woman has placed all her confidence in him as her husband.

There were days at a time when Thompson or Brown absented himself from one or the other of his homes, but neither woman demanded an explanation. He was supposed to be at work but as a matter of fact, he was defrauding the charity organizations.

ARRESTED FOR VAGRANCY.

The man was taken into custody upon a vagrant charge only yesterday. The complaint was sworn to by Kate F. Byrne, secretary of the Catholic Humane Bureau.

His pleas for assistance were based upon the urgent need of wife and children. It is also asserted that the charity dispensed at various times has been sufficient almost to maintain one of the families.

That the two women whom the man so easily deceived did not know of his dual life seems a marvel. The one who lives at 712 1/2 Eleventh street and who believes herself Mrs. Charles F. Thompson told this story to a reporter from THE TRIBUNE this morning.

"I married Mr. Thompson three years ago in San Jose and he has been a dutiful husband to me during that time. We have never quarreled or exchanged a cross word. Everything has been harmonious in our home. He has always supported me and has been extremely devoted to his family. I have trusted in him. I still believe in him and I would give my watch and other jewelry to bail him out of jail. Unfortunately my jewels if sold would not amount to much."

"I am very much attracted to my husband and my affections have not weakened since his arrest. I do not know that he is living with another woman. That is a surprise to me and I cannot believe it."

THE OTHER HOME

At 917 Twenty-fourth street the home of the man when he was Brown it was learned that he and Mrs. Brown had a small quiet life for three months. They had two children out all right. Mrs. Brown was a well-mannered woman in her early thirties. She and Brown have been apparently devoted to each other.

YOUTH SHOT IN RUNNING STREET FIGHT

One of Two Young Criminals From Good Families Caught by Police at Robbery Meets Death

(Special to THE TRIBUNE)

"I wish I were dead in place of my friend. It was all my fault. If it had not been for me there would have been no burglary and Pounds would be alive. He did not want to participate in the robbery. I planned it several days ago but until last night I could not persuade Pounds to take a hand in it. Pounds and I came to San Francisco about two months ago."—Statement made by R. C. Pairs in the police court dock this morning.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 6.—

Surprised while in the act of robbing the saloon of Poge & Moore, on the northeast corner of Fifth and Folsom streets, at 4 o'clock this morning, Scott Pounds, 21 years old, was shot and killed by Policeman Minord T. Ayery while he was attempting to escape, and Roy C. Baird, 18 years old, his companion, was taken into custody by Sergeant Moriarty and Policemen Doran and Farrell after a struggle in the darkness of a vacant lot.

Officer Ayery, while patrolling his beat, found that the glass panel in the door of Poge & Moore's saloon had been cut out. Listening intently, he heard whispered voices within and going round to the front, opened the door. He thought he could hear the man in the rear and proceeded cautiously through the saloon. There was a hurried movement behind him and the two intruders, who had been hiding, made a desperate break for liberty through the side door with the policeman in hot pursuit. In running Pounds attempted to shoot.

Over Fifth street they ran to Jessie and Ayery, fearing they would escape, fired three shots into the air to attract attention and hoarsely commanded them to stop. By this time they had turned down Jessie street and neither the cries nor the pistol shots of the officer caused them to lessen their speed.

BURGLAR FALLS.

Ayery then determined to try to bring them down, and taking deliberate aim he fired. With a cry of anguish, one of the burglars dropped, and the pursuing policeman was soon at his side.

The second man disappeared as though the earth had swallowed him up and Policemen Doran and Farrell, who came up from opposite directions, had seen nothing of him. All three officers were standing beside the wounded man when Sergeant Moriarty came up breathless.

"Where is the second man?" cried the sergeant. "I saw him here in the lot."

The officers replied that he had disappeared, and Moriarty, in moving around, chanced to bump against a barrel standing near by. In doing so he noticed two feet sticking up and there he had plunged head first into the barrel was the burglar. Moriarty pulled each of them a log and pulled him up. When his arms became free he thrust a revolver in Sergeant Moriarty's face with the cry "Kill you!" With a clever twist the sergeant

FIVE HURLED TO STREET AND HURT

San Francisco Car Strikes Curve at Full Speed and Passengers Are Thrown in All Directions.

(Special to The Tribune.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 6.—Five persons including one woman, were seriously injured in a disastrous street car accident in the Potrero district at 7 15 this morning. A car of the Eighth and Eighteenth speeded towards the turn at Seventeenth and Connecticut streets on its way into the city when the motorman made an ineffectual attempt to lessen the headway.

He applied the brakes but they refused to work and he was not sufficiently familiar with the mechanism to turn on the right plug. Accordingly as the car approached the turn the passengers who were seated on the outside section were almost all thrown to the street.

Five two of whom were treated at a drug store near by, were injured. Frank Dowd of 249 Minnesota street, Miss M. Allen of 212 Pennsylvania avenue and A. W. Frederick town constable of Alameda Cal., were removed to the Potrero hospital.

His face was badly smashed and battered by having been thrown against a telegraph pole. He will recover. Miss Allen received a severe cut on the right side of her face and a wound of the scalp and possible internal injuries. Frederick escaped with a broken right arm.

HUNDREDS SEE MAN DIE

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 6.—Henry Bolenhagen for many years manager of the restaurant and saloon of Wheeland & Collins at Montgomery and California streets shot and killed himself on California street this afternoon in the presence of hundreds of persons. Bolenhagen was about 60 years of age and walked out of his place of business into the busy street, put the muzzle of a revolver into his mouth and sent a bullet into his brain.

Bolenhagen was despondent because he did not have the money to complete some cottages which he was building. He drew some money from the bank a few minutes before he visited the saloon. When he shot himself the money which he had drawn rolled from his pockets.

Girl Disappears: Thought Murdered

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—That the charred body of a young woman found on a refuse dump in Green Point, a week ago may be that of Annie Heivil, a Detroit stenographer who came here seeking work is the latest police theory. Her parents in Detroit have never heard from Miss Heivil since she reached this city a fortnight ago and the descriptions and photographs of the pieces of clothing and the body lead them to believe that it may be that of their daughter. It is expected that some one will come from Detroit to try to identify the body.

LINED UP FOR THE PRIMARIES

Lincoln-Roosevelt League Leaders Are on the Run in Five Districts—Max Thelan, Railroad Attorney, Is the Spokesman for League Delegates in Berkeley—Democrats Try to Run Republican Politics in Washington Township—Regular Republicans Certain to Control the County Convention.

Who invited Francis J. Heney to Berkeley and Hayward to address meetings under the auspices of the Lincoln-Roosevelt League?

It was at these meetings that he bitterly attacked Senator George C. Perkins. Realizing that these attacks have cost the league thousands of votes in Alameda county, an attempt is being made to fix the responsibility. The league leaders in Alameda county have declared that notwithstanding the fact that the alleged reform organization was against the senior United States Senator throughout the State, that in his home county he would be supported.

NOT IN GOOD FAITH

The inconsistency of the league's position has been apparent to Senator Perkins' friends from the start, but many were inclined to believe that the Alameda county leaguers were acting in good faith. Heney's attacks on Senator Perkins in Alameda county, taken in connection with the attitude of the Oakland Enquirer, removes all doubt as to the position of the leaguers in the home county and city of Senator Perkins.

LET THEM DECLARE

It is now up to the manipulators of the Alameda county Lincoln-Roosevelt machine to publicly declare the position of the reform organization. Was Mr. Heney voicing the policy of the Alameda county branch of the Lincoln-Roosevelt League in attacking Senator Perkins? He spoke under the auspices of the league and the responsibility cannot be shirked. Heney must be repudiated or it is apparent that the professed friendship for Senator Perkins on the part of the league leaders in Alameda county has been a mere pretense.

The league cannot be for Senator Perkins and at the same time import a Democratic speaker to attack him at large meetings.

KNOWLAND'S POSITION.

The league organs are loudly declaring that they are for Congressman Knowland. This being the case, why do they insist on naming a Congressional ticket? Congressman Knowland's friends demand delegates who are not alone favorable to the re-election of the incumbent, but who also favor a Congressional committee friendly to the Congressman's interests.

LEAGUERS ON THE RUN.

The Lincoln-Roosevelt leaguers are on the run. Reports from Berkeley, Alameda county show that the delegation will be elected by nine-tenths of the Republican votes in Washington township the contest on Daughter of Respectable Family Takes Poison When Arrested In Tenderloin by Plain Clothes Policeman.

(Special to The Tribune.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 6.—Because in a reckless mood she purchased from late forbidden precincts of the tenderloin, where it is frequent, a small bottle of poison, Miss Charlotte May, 2051, after replying to a plain clothes policeman, who arrested her in a tenderloin, took the poison and died.

POPPED BY POLICEMAN.

Policeman Stevenson, who is detailed to the section bounded by Sutter, McAllister, Steiner and Webster streets, found the girl alone on the street shortly before midnight, questioned her as to what she was doing. Taken rather back by his approach and not knowing he was a policeman, she put out a small, but at 7 o'clock this morning her body was still a matter of some doubt.

An ambulance was immediately summoned and she was removed to the city's emergency hospital, where she gave the name of Willie Mitchell and said she was a domestic. For four hours Dr. Hill worked over her in a effort to save her life, but at 7 o'clock this morning her recovery was still a matter of some doubt.

PROHIBITIONISTS TO HOLD A CONVENTION

The Alameda County Prohibition convention has been called for tomorrow night by T. H. Montgomery, chairman of the party's county central committee. The convention will meet in the vestry of the First Free Baptist Church, on Twenty-first street near Brush.

Considerable business will come before the meeting, which will also elect delegates to represent the county at the state convention, which meets in Pacific Grove on August 26. A new county central committee will also be chosen.

HENEY'S WAR ON POLITICS URGED BY LEAGUE LEADERS

GEORGE FITZGERALD.
Candidate for Supervisor.

behalf of the Roosevelt league is being conducted by a man named Runkel, a Democrat. He was a candidate on the Democratic State ticket for the office of superintendent of schools and ran 25,000 votes behind the ticket. Another prominent Lincoln-Roosevelt league in Washington township is Mr. Shinn, former prohibitionist and Democrat.

FORTY-SEVENTH DISTRICT.

Their feeble attempt to beat the regular Republicans of the district is a joke. The Forty-seventh district will bring in a solid delegation for Joseph R. Knowland for Congress and for the three incumbent judges. Although the Lincoln-Roosevelt league has put up an opposition ticket in Alameda they have not the slightest chance of election.

FORTY-EIGHTH DISTRICT.

In the Forty-eighth assembly district James T. Peasey, candidate for the assembly, has far the best of the contest. He has lined up behind him practically every leader in the district, and his friends are all very sanguine for his success. He is opposed by Harry Borchert, who is making an active fight. Peasey will hold a big smoker tonight in Hovey Hall.

FORTY-NINTH DISTRICT.

There is a real battle in progress in the Forty-ninth district over the office of assemblyman. John W. Mott is contesting the right of John F. Kelley to secure the nomination for assemblyman. The fight in this district appears to be a spirited one and the candidates are rounding up every available vote in the Republican ranks. Mr. Kelley's friends are claiming his election on the ground that he has already received assurances from enough Republican voters in the district to give him a safe majority at the polls on election day. He is popular with the working men at the west end, and while he is opposed by a number of city employees, still, on the whole, he claims he will have nine-tenths of the working forces in his district lined up on his side of the battle line.

SIXTH DISTRICT.

The Lincoln-Roosevelt league leaders claim the Fifth district, but in this particular section is cut into two separate parts the reform patriots have their hands full.

In the blanket containing fifteen delegates in the Fifth district, which lies within the Fifteenth Senatorial district, now represented by Senator Lukens, the hottest fight is being waged. Edwin Griffith is a candidate for supervisor in this district, and has joined forces with the friends of Senator Lukens. There will be both a Lukens and a Stetson ticket in the field, and the regulars claim this district.

The Lincoln-Roosevelt league also claim the Fifty-second assembly district, although they concede that the blanket of ten votes which included a section of North Oakland and a part of Berkeley will be carried by the regulars on a ticket headed by Walter Woolsey for supervisor.

It is likely to be a contest in South Berkeley, where William J. Schmidt is a candidate for supervisor.

51st DISTRICT.

The Fifty-first assembly district is conceded to the regular Republicans. The regular ticket in this district has the unqualified backing of Judge Melvin. The opposition is so insignificant that it is hardly worth mentioning.

52d DISTRICT.

The Lincoln-Roosevelt league claim the Fifty-second, although it is conceded that the blanket of ten votes, which includes a section of North Oakland and a part of Berkeley, will be carried by the regulars on a ticket headed by Walter Woolsey for supervisor.

RALLY AT HAYWARD.

There will be a big Republican rally at Hayward in Eden Township, on Saturday night. The meeting will be held in Native Sons' hall, under the auspices of the Taft-Sherman Republican club of which organization H. W. Meek is president.

Congressman Knowland and other speakers will address the meeting.

FITZGERALD A CANDIDATE.

George Fitzgerald is mentioned as a candidate for supervisor to succeed John Mitchell. His friends are working in his behalf.

ALAMEDA REGULARS.

ALAMEDA, Aug. 6.—The Regular Republicans of Alameda held a meeting last night for the nomination of delegates to the State, congressional and county conventions to be voted for at the primary election Tuesday. The ticket named last night by the Republicans is: State and congressional—L. R. Weinman, C. S. Neal, William Hammond Jr., C. L. Tisdale, W. H. Noy, E. E. Johnson, C. H. Payne.

County—George Lewis, J. H. Walker, W. W. Cooley, J. B. Lanktree, H. M. Keby, W. K. Scott, J. D. Calder, G. L. Schmidt, J. J. Searle, H. D. Perry, J. H. Peterson, A. J. Kinn, A. V. Fisher, J. W. Becker, J. C. Fielding, Peter Ferita, H. H. Shed, George Johnston, F. N. Heany, John Larkin, C. T. Rose, F. J. Smith, E. B. Bullock, W. E. Denison, W. H. L. Hynes, Harry A. Hintze, George Sturtevant, Henry Muller, James Aitchison.

The regulars selected seven men for congressional delegates who are certain to support Congressman Knowland for re-election. The ticket named is considered a strong one, and the greatest confidence is felt as to the outcome of the primary election. At the meeting last night, which was held at Lindeman hall, arrangements were made for a love feast to be held next Monday night at the same place. This ticket is a sure winner.

LEAGUE TICKET.

ALAMEDA, Aug. 6.—At their meeting last night the Lincoln-Roosevelt League nominated the following delegates to the State, congressional and county conven-

Chinese Pirates Murder Engineers

VICTORIA, B. C., Aug. 6.—News was brought by the Tosa Maru of the murder of two Hongkong engineers, M. Fearby and M. Sutherland, in the Trai Mai district, Tonkin, by Chinese pirates, who, armed with rifles, attacked the camp of the mining engineers and shot them down.

Both men had been working in the Philippines before going into Tonkin.

The delegates will be voted upon at the primaries next Tuesday. Following is the list of delegates:

State—F. E. Mason, George Wittman, J. L. Gould, C. E. Naylor, J. G. Moran, George T. Morris, L. L. Torrey.

Third district congressional convention—A. G. Nason, Jacob Jensen, Ralph B. Bishop, S. Bruce Wright, H. E. Catas, David R. Gordon, Dr. Cecil C. Dennis.

County convention—George E. Plummer, Dr. W. R. Chness, Charles W. Merrill, Henry Lank, Edward P. Fish, Alex. La Palmt, J. D. Jamison, George T. Waterson, A. Muncie, Benjamin G. Elliott, C. H. White, H. P. Sackett, R. Kirkham Blair, George W. Shreve, A. C. Baerling, Seeshull M. King, A. T. Thompson, W. A. S. Nicholson, Herbert C. Wyman, A. J. Bell, Charles L. Metzger, J. S. Sanford, J. D. Rogers, J. D. Spence, R. S. Wheeler, John H. Carr, Henry P. Smith.

The question of indemnifying the candidacy of Congressman Knowland was discussed and it was agreed that the league should endorse him, as there was no one else for the office.

BERKELEY POLITICS.

BERKELEY, Aug. 6.—All sorts of rows are promised when the Lincoln-Roosevelt League meet in upon caucus this evening in the North End club at 1514 Broadway, to select delegates to the county and State conventions. By way of beginning these promises to be trouble in the selection of delegates from North Berkeley, the North End club at 1514 Broadway a few nights ago decided upon six names for recommendation to the caucus. They are F. W. Richardson, George H. Richardson, W. W. Foss and E. L. Newton, and a seventh, recommended by W. F. McClure for the State and W. H. Payson for the congressional gathering.

F. W. Richardson beat C. A. Sherman by 13 to 8, and some members of the club rebelled at the result. Richardson played in the naming of this slate, are doing some queer talking today.

SLATE IS MADE.

The league are announcing that the caucus is to be open and that it is to be a free for all go. This statement is given out for the benefit of the uninformed. These men are going to be recommended and selections indicate that the slate has been framed for weeks and that it is to be a hard and fast one. It was C. E. Bishop who presided at this famous caucus, and he is a member of the North End club and formerly trained with the town hall colony. He wears glasses and because he forgot them on the night in question he managed to make a blunder that even the league was laughing at. After calling the meeting to order Bishop reached into his inside coat pocket for a paper with some writing upon it.

JOKE IN POLITICS.

Falling to find his spectacles he was forced to make some apologies for his tardiness in his caucus. "There are some names on this paper," began Bishop hesitatingly, "which were given to me by Max Thelen, the Western Pacific Railroad attorney. Max recommended these going to the county and county conventions."

Bishop paused in a further search for the missing glasses. Still without his articles he eyed the slate and then said: "Mr. Thelen gave me these names and I can scarcely remember them. Let me see. There was F. W. Foss, and E. F. Newton. Bishop stumbled again to the right and then said: "Then there was C. A. Sherman and W. Richardson and another Richardson, George, I think. And Thelen said our town engineer, W. F. McClure would be present and Thelen says that the son is the man for our club to send to the congressional convention."

There was a stillness that was depressing and the men who were supposed to be going to the caucus looked at each other. Then Thelen recommended to me, he said, holding the paper aloft so that his hearers might see it. He said that he had been told of the Western Pacific attorney, and I think that they are the men we want."

SLATE SWALLOWED.

Bishop smiled better than he knew. The Thelen slate was swallowed without a murmur. It so happened that only four out of the five names by Thelen could go to the county convention under the apportionment. A ballot was necessary. On the first ballot F. W. Richardson beat C. A. Sherman by but one vote, but as one of the fellows called "E. F. Richardson, instead of "F. W.," Bishop called for a new deal. The second vote gave F. Richardson the victory. It is possible that the action of the club will not be ratified in the caucus tonight.

ANOTHER SLATE.

The Thelen program was submitted to the third precinct club at the home of L. J. Allen in the same way. The names were read and everything would have passed smoothly had it not been for the sudden inspiration of W. Brown, a Socialist, who realized that he was being jammed against state methods, rebelled in unruly manner and threatened a roughhouse at the caucus.

The sixth ward club caucused last night and failed to make any selections. The Thelen names were presented as well but because of threats of a break on the part of some of the men believed to be favorable to the superior candidacy of W. J. Schmidt, the delegation will go into the meeting tonight "unpledged."

Walter E. Woolsey, manager of the Shattuck estate, fears he is going to be snubbed in his desire to go to the state convention, because of his opposition to the candidacy of C. E. Young for assemblyman. Woolsey won't stand for Young, says Young is a big wheel in the league machine and a particular friend of Thelen, but Woolsey is after him Aug.

WALTER WOOLSEY'S FRIENDS ARE INCENSED OVER ATTACK ON HIM

WALTER P. WOOLSEY,
Candidate for Supervisor.

BERKELEY, Aug. 6.

It is probable that if the Lincoln-Roosevelt League programmers could recall the attack made on Walter P. Woolsey in a circular issued broadcast over Berkeley yesterday they would be much pleased. Woolsey's friends have come out by the score to denounce the action and even leaders in the league admit that a mistake was made, which in politics, is worse than a crime.

ROORBACK CIRCULAR.

Using the exact words of the roorback circular: "Mr. Woolsey is a very estimable gentleman and a popular man." And this is the truth. Woolsey has for a quarter of a century been doing business as a real estate and insurance agent in Berkeley, and even the league men admit that there has never yet been a weak point in his business or social reputation. Essentially a business man with the business training he has never been actively identified with politics. The only office he has held in this time was that of school director for the Berkeley district, a position he filled for seven years, to the eminent satisfaction of the people and parents in the district.

A NATIVE SON.

Woolsey is a resident of Oakland and was born not a block away from the spot where his home is now located, at 645 Sixty-sixth street. His father, James B. Woolsey, was one of the pioneers of the North Oakland and South Berkeley region and opened up large tracts of land in the region about Lorin station. Woolsey street, one of the principal thoroughfares in Berkeley, extending from Adeline to Claremont avenue, is named in honor of him.

The Woolsey home in early days was in Berkeley territory, although the shifting of the boundary line in later years carried the family into Oakland as residents.

After graduating from the Oakland High school, Walter Woolsey, as a boy, in spite of the fact that his parents were wealthy, set out to earn his own living in the good old American fashion.

He wandered over the state for a time acquiring experience and finally returned to Berkeley to locate and has remained with the college town ever since, maintaining residence with his aged father in Oakland. The family is prominent in Alameda county social and business life.

A brother, Frank R. Woolsey, is one of the leading physicians of Berkeley; another brother, Roy L. Woolsey, is a dentist, with offices in the First National Bank of Berkeley; another brother, A. J. Woolsey, is a clerk and the fourth brother, P. E. Woolsey, is a traveling salesman for one of the largest concerns on the coast.

RANKS HIGH AS CITIZEN.

Walter Woolsey ranks high as a citizen and business man in Berkeley. He has been to the front in every movement looking towards the development of the city of his adoption and his hand has been in his pocket to assist enterprises of all kinds.

In the days when Berkeley was small and sparsely populated he was one of its most enthusiastic advocates. He supported all the projects for enlarging its boundaries and beautifying its environment. He is now a man of independent means, acquired through his own efforts and has probably one of the most prosperous businesses in the county.

Woolsey's friends say openly that the attack made on him by the Lincoln-Roosevelt League has been of advantage to his candidacy. The man himself is too well-known, growing up as he has in Berkeley and North Oakland to need any defense and the attempt to smother his candidacy indicates to what desperate straits the league men find themselves in.

Woolsey himself is not worrying over the incident. "It will bring me votes," is the modest reply he makes.

The Swedish American Republican club of Alameda county, at their regular meeting August 4, adopted the following resolutions:

"Whereas, Our nation is again preparing itself to select a new Chief Executive and to endorse such national policy which will stand the most wear and tear, and the state stands ready to commit itself as regards its choice, and whereas, Alameda county is one of the banner Republican counties of the state; be it

Consultation Held by Dr. Goodfellow and Local Physicians—An Operation Decided on as a Last Resort—The Fall Passes Through the Body and is Cut Out at the Lower Extremity of the Backbone by Dr. Fenner—He May Die Within Three Hours.

Associated Press Dispatches.

TUCSON, Sept. 24.—Dr. John C. Handy, a prominent physician of this city, was shot today by Francis J. Heney, a lawyer, and probably fatally wounded. A bitter feeling has existed between them for a long time growing out of a divorce suit in which Heney was attorney for Mrs. Handy. Handy says that today, as he was crossing the street going to the court house, Heney ran from an office near by with a pistol in his hand. Handy tried to grab the weapon but Heney placed the muzzle to the body of his victim and shot and both then clinched and fell to the ground. They were separated by citizens. Handy walked to his office and Heney went to the court house being found there he went home where he was afterwards arrested.

Special dispatch to the Republican.] TUCSON, A. T., Sept. 24.—Dr. Goodfellow arrived from Tombstone to hold consultation with the local physicians at 9 o'clock. Handy was decided to be in a precarious condition, and an operation was decided upon as a last resort, which is now being performed with slight hopes of success. The ball passed directly through the body and was cut out this afternoon from the back of the lower extremity of the spinal column by Dr. Fenner. Handy has made his will and an ante-mortem statement. The wound will probably prove fatal within three hours.

So that it appears 136,218 pensions were added to the rolls during the fiscal year just closed, at an increased cost to the nation of $12,065,000, as compared with the previous year. During last year 20,825 pensioners were dropped from rolls for various causes, 13,229 being dropped by reason of death. It is estimated that of the soldiers of the late war, 1,004,653 were killed in battle or have died during and since the war. On June 30th, last, 124,750 of these deceased soldiers were represented on the pension rolls by widows or other dependants, there are about 1,508,707 soldiers of the late war now on the rolls, of whom are 520,158 widows.

Herewith is reproduced the account of the killing of Dr. John C. Handy by Francis J. Heney, printed in the Phoenix, Arizona, Republican of September 25, 1891. Heney shot Dr. Handy in Tucson on September 24, 1891, and the account printed in the Phoenix Republican was the one sent out by the Associated Press, the greatest and most accurate news-gathering agency in the world.

DIRIGIBLE BALLOON FLIES

Captain Baldwin's Airship Tours
Air Regions and Obeys
the Hand of Pilot Perfectly.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—Captain Baldwin made another successful flight yesterday afternoon in his new dirigible balloon. The balloon, a balloon within a balloon, was tied for the first time. A. R. Curtis, who again handled the planes and the motor, increased the speed, although the maximum was not attained.

After a short preliminary flight earlier an aggression was made at 6:40 o'clock. As Curtis increased the speed of the propeller, the airship in the face of a seven-mile breeze, pitched forward like an ocean liner. Several times the ship came at an angle of twenty degrees to the wind and then turned to the point of view. It was then that the utility of the planes was demonstrated.

When the ship lurched downward Curtis, standing on the platform twenty feet from the propeller, which is at the forward end of the frame, turned the planes in the opposite direction and the effect was quickly apparent. Captain Baldwin's machine is the first one to be controlled entirely by mechanical means. In the past the dirigible balloon operator in this country has maintained the balance by swaying his body forward and backward on the framework.

POLICE SAY ACCUSED CASHIER TRAVELED GREAT WHITE WAY

Was Infatuated, It Is Said, With Woman Other Than His Wife

Accounting for the large sums of money which William F. Kane, the defaulting cashier of the Forum Cafe, is said to have stolen during the past year, it is claimed by the police that Kane was a rapid traveler along the great white way, spending money with astonishing freedom in gay automobile parties, buying unlimited quantities of wine at the various road houses about the city and in the maintenance of a separate establishment other than that presided over by his wife.

The woman in the case is said to be a Margaret Hoffman, who some time ago came from Goldfield, where she and Kane had been over friendly. It is alleged, before he came to Oakland to accept the position at the Forum. It is also said that Kane, infatuated with the life of luxury, he was leading, had tried to "sldstep" the attentions of Miss Hoffman but that her claims upon him were of such a nature that he divided, it is said, much of his easily acquired wealth with her.

So happily did Brown trust Kane that when a friend of the former told him of incidents in Kane's alleged wild career such as auto rides to road houses, where $100 for wine in one night, and for many nights in succession, was a common occurrence, Brown refused to believe it. It was only when the friend offered to put an expert upon the books of the Forum at his own expense did Brown finally consent and find to his amazement that the speculations ran into fully a thousand dollars a month and possibly more. It is now claimed that whole days receipts at the Forum never reached the bank at all but were squandered by Kane.

PRISONER IS ARRANGED. Kane was arraigned in the police court this morning on three charges of embezzlement, aggregating $138,450. The complaints were sworn to by the proprietor of the Forum and alleged that Kane embezzled various sums at different times, as follows: June 23, 1907, $28,000; July 1, 1907, $17,100; July 11, 1907, $44,046.

Upon the arraignment the cases were continued until Monday when they will be set for hearing. Bail has been fixed at $2000 in each case, but at the request of Kane's attorney, that amount was reduced to $1500 in each case as it was intimated that Kane would probably be able to secure that amount.

HARRIMAN DENIES HAVING CONTROL OF GOULD ROADS

Neither Taft or Bryan Will Effect Railways, Says the Magnate

OGDEN, August 6.—Edward H. Harriman, who passed through here yesterday afternoon on his way to his estate in Oregon for several weeks' fishing and rest, was asked if there was any truth in the current rumor that he had, or intended to, obtain control of the Gould railroad properties. Mr. Harriman hesitated for a moment, then said:

"I have, of course, heard these rumors but there is nothing to them. It is true that recently the aviem which I now control obligated itself to meet a certain indebtedness of the Gould properties, but personally I was only an incident to the transaction."

"There is nothing to the reports that I am to meet representatives of the Gould railroad holdings in Salt Lake or any other place, to discuss the matter."

Talking of the political situation Mr. Harriman said:

"The election of Mr. Taft or Mr. Bryan would not in the least affect the railroads of the country, because the policies of the Republican and Democratic parties in the prosecution of railroads which violate the law are identical."

KILLS BOY BURGLAR

knocked the weapon from the desperate man's hand and the bracelets were soon on his wrists.

INJURED BOY DIES.

The injured man was then taken immediately to the Central Emergency Hospital, where Dr. Hill found he had been shot through the back and although everything possible was done for him, he died at 7 o'clock this morning.

The second man was locked up in the city prison and a charge of burglary placed against him. All the burglars obtained for their trouble up to the time they were interrupted was $150 in cash and some telephone slugs from the cash register and the revolver which one of them used in an effort to kill Sergeant Moriarty. When the bartender opened the saloon at 8 o'clock this morning he found the money bag containing upward of $200 in its usual resting place beneath the bar.

Both the burglars are a little more than boys and are wayward sons of well known families in Seattle. The latter, when seen at the city prison, said that he was a clerk by occupation and that he had left Seattle in company with Pounds about three months ago, the two coming to this city in a spirit of adventure to secure positions. His father is a foreman for the Standard Oil Company in Seattle and lives at 214 Blanchard street. He has besides his parents, a sister and two brothers. Pounds was three years and his father is a clerk in a large store in Seattle. His residence is 513 1-2 Eighth avenue South.

Since they have been in this city the boys have lived at the Hotel Raymond, and Baird claims that they have been unsuccessful in securing employment.

NOTED MAN KILLED IN RUNAWAY

Walter Cooke, Famous Landscape Artist, Meets Tragic Death While on Outing at Summer Resort.

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 6.—The death of Walter Cooke, the famous landscape architect, occurred this morning at the "Willows," a summer resort in the mountains near Alpine. Mr. Cooke, a chief engineer of the San Diego city and county boulevard commission, was driving through the country, viewing roads, when a accident to the harness resulted in dropping the wagon pole and overturning the horses. Mr. Cooke was thrown out of the wagon and fell down the side of the road, a distance of about 50 feet, breaking five ribs and dislocating a shoulder. He lay where he fell for several hours before being discovered. One of the broken ribs punctured the lung tissue and that with the exposure resulted in his death. He was a partner of Samuel H. Parsons of New York, the authority on landscape culture, and with him came to plan for improvements in this city. Mr. Cooke was about 55 years of age and unmarried.

Stanford Student, Badly Injured, Found After Answering Calls of a Searching Party.

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 6.—After suffering for forty-eight hours with a broken leg, twenty hours of which were spent alone in a canyon in the Big Teacote mountain range, Charles Carter, a Stanford student, was brought to this city yesterday from the Cottonwood Camp and taken to a sanitarium.

Carter, with two companions had been prospecting in the Big Teacote. Monday morning he went out alone and while walking on a ledge slipped and fell, breaking his leg. When he did not return, his companions became alarmed and started in search of him. They found him at noon the next day and brought him back to the camp, where he was removed to this city. During the twenty hours he lay in the canyon he never lost consciousness and it was to his ability to answer shouts of the searchers that he probably owes his life.

ROMANCE ENDED IN COURT

Fair Charmer Ordered to Vacate Home of Capitalist Whom She Met at Summer Resort.

The culmination of a pretty summer romance between an aged capitalist and a fair charmer was reached this morning when Judge Henry Melvin gave an order restraining Lambert Van Laak of San Francisco from the custody of his 1910 Regent street Alameda, which has lately been occupied by Mrs. Lydia Marie Allen. The suit for injunction follows a $25,000 breach of promise suit recently instituted against Van Laak by Mrs. Allen, who claimed that the retired merchant had promised to marry her.

A SUMMER ROMANCE.
Van Laak and Mrs. Allen met last summer at one of the prettiest resorts to which society flocks during the warm weather. They were mutually attracted to one another, and upon their return Van Laak purchased the house on Regent street and offered it to Mrs. Allen as a home, free of all cost and simply as a token of his esteem and admiration. Mrs. Allen moved into the house and for a time continued a most agreeable friendship with the capitalist.

A STRANGE INFLUENCE.
Finally differences began to creep out and Mrs. Allen appeared in court with a suit for $25,000 against Van Laak on the ground that he had failed to keep a promise of matrimony. She declared that Van Laak had proposed to her at the summer resort and later at his home in Alameda. The merchant indignantly denied that he had ever proposed to her, and declared that she had had any intention of marrying him. He affirmed that he had been attracted to Mrs. Allen by a strange influence, which evidenced itself in a constant desire for her companionship, and that he had given her the use of his house because he desired to make her comfortable.

SHE MUST MOVE.
Mrs. Allen, however, claimed that Van Laak had not only promised to wed her but had led her to believe that she should live in the house until their marriage, after which they would occupy it together. The action for injunction was then filed by Van Laak, being sustained today by Judge Melvin. Mrs. Allen's breach of promise proceedings are still pending in the Superior Court.

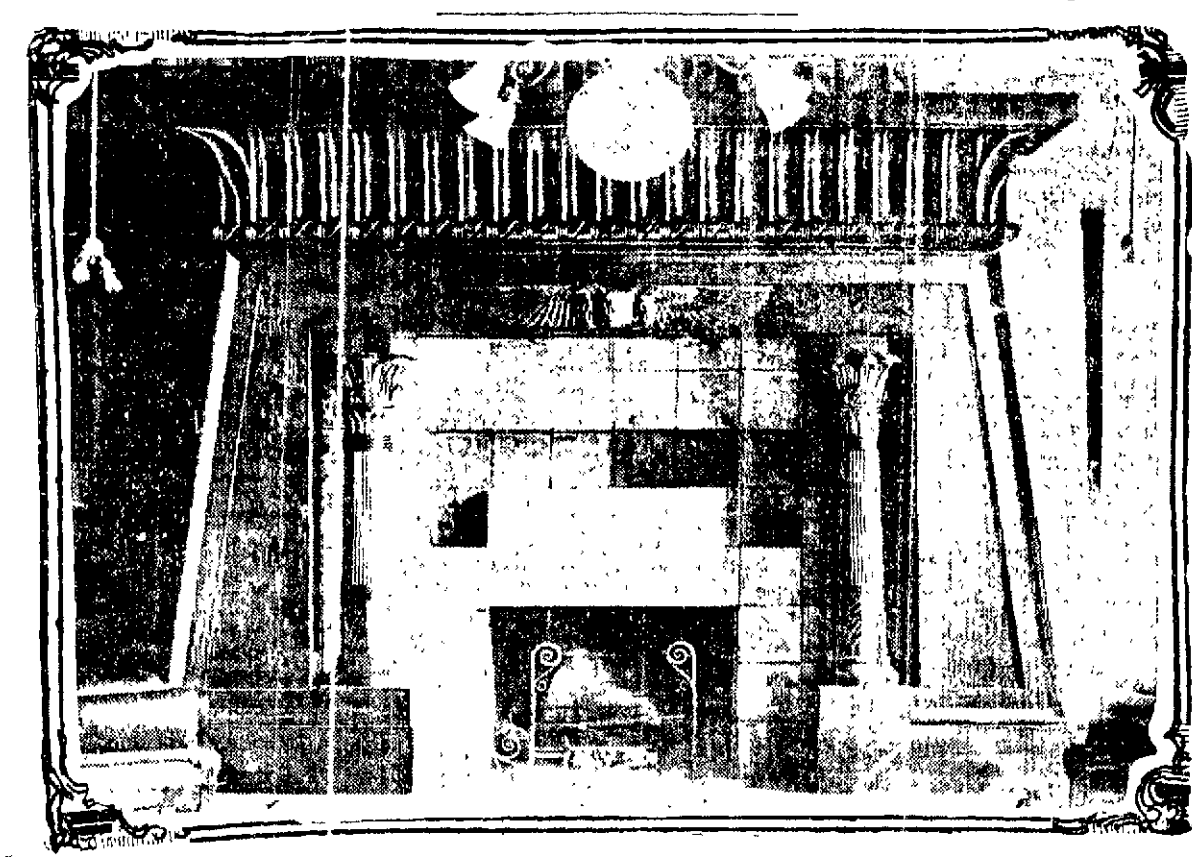

SACRIFICED HER WEALTH FOR MAN SHE LOVED

PALO ALTO, Aug. 6.—A bit of romance attaches to the secret marriage of James Oliver Jensen and Miss Marie Louisa Macdonald, which it has just been learned occurred in Sacramento on May 9 of this year. Miss Macdonald was the protégée and mistress of Mrs. H. K. Clapp, a wealthy resident of Palo Alto. Miss Clapp, who was formerly librarian of the University of Nevada, took the girl into her home six years ago, and while not formally adopting her, had treated her as a daughter. Miss Clapp made a will bequeathing her home here and valuable real estate to her, and also set aside $20,000 for the education of the young lady, who entered Stanford with the class of 1910.

When Miss Macdonald became infatuated with Jensen, who is now chief of the Palo Alto division of the Pacific Telephone Company, Miss Clapp objected to the young man's attentions, as she disapproved of an early marriage and inheritance of her money. She refused to give up the young man, and her marriage has sacrificed a handsome fortune.

AN EGYPTIAN, SOLID OAK MANTEL, CAUSES CLUB MEMBERS MUCH WORRY

BEAUTIFUL MANTEL OF NILE CLUB THAT CAUSED THE TROUBLE.

Grocery Firm Claims the Right of Possessing Historical Article

An Egyptian mantel, solid oak and hand carved, is causing the members of the Nile Club and the board of the Sunset Grocery company no end of concern, both claiming the right of possessing the article.

The mantel in all its beauty was recently removed from the old to the new quarters of the Nile Club on Thirteenth near Grove streets, by R. L. Mosher, superintendent of the club. It had no sooner been settled in the new location than a claim for it was put in by the grocery firm from whom the club formerly leased their rooms.

REFUSES TO RETURN IT.

So far, all demands to have the mantel returned, it is said, have been refused.

Charles Heesman, president of the Nile Club, and Mayor Mott, one of the directors, plainly state that the mantel was purchased by the club and the members are entitled to retain it. The mantel, in fact, was made to order for the club, and part with it, well, not if the Nile Club members can help it. The mantel was designed to represent the ancient Egyptian inscriptions and it was thought it would prove to be a thing of beauty and a joy forever instead of a bone of contention.

STRUCK WITH ITS BEAUTY.

The officers of the Nile Club are anxious to retain possession of the mantel, not only as a piece of art, but because of its historical significance and the fact that it is the only article of its kind in the whole world. The members of the grocery firm, were also struck with the beauty of the thing, it is claimed, and objected to its being moved as it had been built into the old rooms and was thought to be a permanent portion of those premises.

H. C. Canwell, vice-president, R. E. Ayer, secretary, Dr. Harry Carlton, recording secretary, Director A. D. Pench and others are lined up for the club in retaining possession of the much prized mantel.

It is indicated that legal steps will be taken by the claimants in an effort to secure the mantel, Egyptian carvings and all.

HIS LIFE IS INSURED FOR FOUR MILLION DOLLARS Few in the United States Carry a Million

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—There are seven men in the United States who carry $1,000,000 and more insurance on their lives, two who carry $1,500,000, and one who carries $4,000,000. The latter is Lodovico Wamankor of Philadelphia, who is the most heavily insured man in the world.

James B. Colgate, a stock broker, carries more insurance than any other resident of New York, his policy aggregating $1,500,000.

The millionaires and multi-millionaires of Philadelphia, in proportion to their number, go in for life insurance heavier than those of any other city. Statistics gathered by the insurance press show that 134 residents of Philadelphia are insured for $33,000,000, while New York, with four times as many millionaires, has 491 residents insured for $67,000,000. Chicago has 185 millionaires insured for $24,000,000. There are 5,339 men in the United States insured for $30,000 or more, the total of their policies aggregating $40,967,000. There are seven insured for an even million each, four insured for $500,000 to $1,000,000; ten for $700,000.

and twenty-four for $500,000 to $600,000. There are 1136 men who carry from $100,000 to $500,000 each, and 271 who are insured for $200,000 to $300,000 each.

Of the seven men who are insured for $1,000,000, one lives in Georgia, one in Illinois, one in Louisiana, one in New York, one in Philadelphia and one in Wisconsin.

BRIDES WAITING TO BE CLAIMED

Thirty Japanese Women, Married by Proxy, Unable to Land Until Husbands Arrive.

VICTORIA, B. C., Aug. 6.—There will be many marriages when the steamer Tosa Maru, which arrived yesterday reaches Seattle, for there are over thirty Japanese women, mostly married by proxy, under the old photograph ceremony, who will have to be claimed by husbands before immigration officers will let them land.

The immigrants for Victoria were the smallest number landed here in years, there being but thirteen. The Tosa Maru lost by two days in a race with the Montague, with silk.

The Tosa Maru had 633 packages valued at $27,300 yen. Owing to the boycott organized in South China against Japan, there were no Chinese passengers and but little freight from China, the steamer was one-third full.

The full term at California College began this morning with a very largely increased enrollment. The sub-academy began its sessions in the new building, which has been assigned to completion in time for the beginning of the term. One of the conspicuous features of this term's opening is the first session of the Domestic Science department. Miss Lulu Cook, who received her training at Mills College, has charge of this department, and under her direction an up to date equipment is being installed.

The college now occupies with its dormitories and three houses adjoining the campus. A handsome studio has been fitted up for the art department, and special attention will be devoted to the building up of the branch during this year. Regular and systematic work in physical culture is now provided for the boys, being under the direction of W. W. Sim and the girls under the care of Miss Camilla Levy.

STRONG APPEAL MADE FOR CONVICT'S PARDON

Wheeler Declares Dimmick Has Been Found Guilty On Doubtful Evidence.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 6.—Walter N. Dimmick, who is serving time in San Quentin for stealing over $30,000 from the San Francisco mint, is making an effort to have President Roosevelt grant him a pardon. His strongest hope lies in the personal letter written by President Benjamin Ide Wheeler of the University of California in his behalf.

President Wheeler writes to Secretary Lord asking him to try his letter before President Roosevelt. In the letter he says:

"The interests of justice will be subserved by his pardon. It is doubtful if he was guilty at all—at least of any more than participating in the lax methods commonly in vogue. A very large body of our worthiest people are convinced that he is innocent."

Dimmick was the confidential chief clerk of the mint under the supervision of Frank A. Leach and managed the affairs of the institution. He had agreed to the warrants, during the cleanup during July, 1901, six sacks of gold double eagles, aggregating $30,000, were found to be missing, and Secret Service agent Burns was sent out from Washington to investigate. He was convinced that the chief clerk was the robber. An examination was made and several irregularities were discovered in which Dimmick was implicated. He was arrested, tried on three indictments and convicted on each. The tenses aggregated nine years.

Dimmick has been in San Quentin six years and eight months. He is entitled to credits of about two years.

The petition for his release is signed by eighty of the friends of Dimmick who live in Santa Barbara, where he resided before coming to San Francisco.

A peculiarity of the case is the fact that not a dollar of the $30,000 was ever traced or found. The petition recites this fact and says the signed friends believe Dimmick innocent of the theft and that his conviction was entirely upon evidence which was circumstantial. In the other case it was shown that he had no intention to defraud and all the monies were deposited in the treasury. The petitioners ask for the pardon for the sake of his family, who are destitute.

AUSTRALIA READY TO GREET FLEET

Excitement Grows as Day for Arrival in Auckland Approaches—Royal Decorations.

AUCKLAND, Aug. 6.—The excitement in Australia grows feverish as the date for the arrival of the American battleship fleet draws near. An immense army of workmen are engaged in completing the decorations and the illumination, and the water front of the town presents a magnificent spectacle. The main streets are being transformed into fairy bowers of palms and bunting among which are transparencies bearing portraits of President Roosevelt, King Edward, Admiral Sperry, the late Premier Seddon and the present Premier, Sir Joseph G. Ward. Everywhere are the intertwined flags of the United States and England and everywhere American and Britishers are fraternizing. The government buildings will present a perfect blaze of light arranged to depict the fighting top of a battleship. The fleet is expected to arrive Sunday morning.

Dr. Wheeler Seeks Dimmick's Pardon

President Wheeler of the State University is a man of such diversified talents and multifarious activity that it is not surprising to hear of his branching out in a new direction and devoting some of his surplus energy and spare time to some of the few objects which have hitherto escaped his pervasive attention, things on which he has not heretofore fixed his eagle eye; but it is somewhat singular to find him trying to secure a pardon for an official thief and embezzler, a man convicted of violating a public trust and stealing public money might be regarded as having a claim to the sympathies and good offices of Rudolph Spreckels and Francis J. Heney—that is, if one is to judge from the wholesale immunity granted the hoodlums in San Francisco—but why the president of the State University should feel called upon to dispute the righteousness of the conviction of Walter N. Dimmick is a trifle mystifying. Nevertheless Dr. Wheeler is alleged to have written to Private Secretary Loeb a letter to be laid before the President imploring clemency for Dimmick. The latter is said to contain this passage:

"The interests of justice will be subserved by his pardon. It is doubtful if he was guilty at all—at least of any more than participating in the lax methods commonly in vogue. A very large body of our worthiest people are convinced that he is innocent."

Dimmick was chief clerk of the mint, and the confidential subordinate of Frank A. Leach, the then superintendent. He was convicted of stealing $30,000 from the government. It is a stretch of ephemeristic hyperbole to say that the theft of $30,000 is merely "participating in the lax methods in vogue." Dr. Wheeler must have had Heney or Big Jim Gallagher in mind when he wrote that. But perhaps he intended the reference to lax methods to be a slap at Superintendent Leach.

The case against Dimmick was worked up by William J. Burns, who gave damaging testimony against the defendant and sweated out of the other mint employees testimony incriminating Dimmick. I have the recent exposures of the methods adopted by Burns to secure convictions raised the presumption in Dr. Wheeler's mind that Dimmick was unjustly convicted? If he was, he is the victim of a conspiracy and perjury. If he was committed for nine years to a felon's cell on a false charge substantiated by false testimony, an innocent man was sacrificed to shield some other criminal.

The $30,000 was stolen beyond doubt. Some of the mint officials stole it. If Dimmick is innocent, who is the thief? If he is innocent Burns must have become acquainted with the fact while he was investigating the robbery. To doubt the guilt of Dimmick is to impeach the honesty of Burns and the integrity of other mint officials. To say that many believe Dimmick innocent means nothing beyond an assertion, whether true or untrue, that does not touch the neat of the case.

If Dimmick stole the $30,000 he added perjury to the crime of larceny and breach of official trust. If he did not, he was unjustly consigned to prison by foul means to cover up somebody else's wrongdoing. What would Dr. Wheeler have us believe? If he thinks Dimmick has sufficiently expiated his offense, that is entirely a different matter. But to assume that Dimmick is innocent is to point a finger of suspicion at others and to assume that Burns conspired to convict the guiltless and shield the guilty.

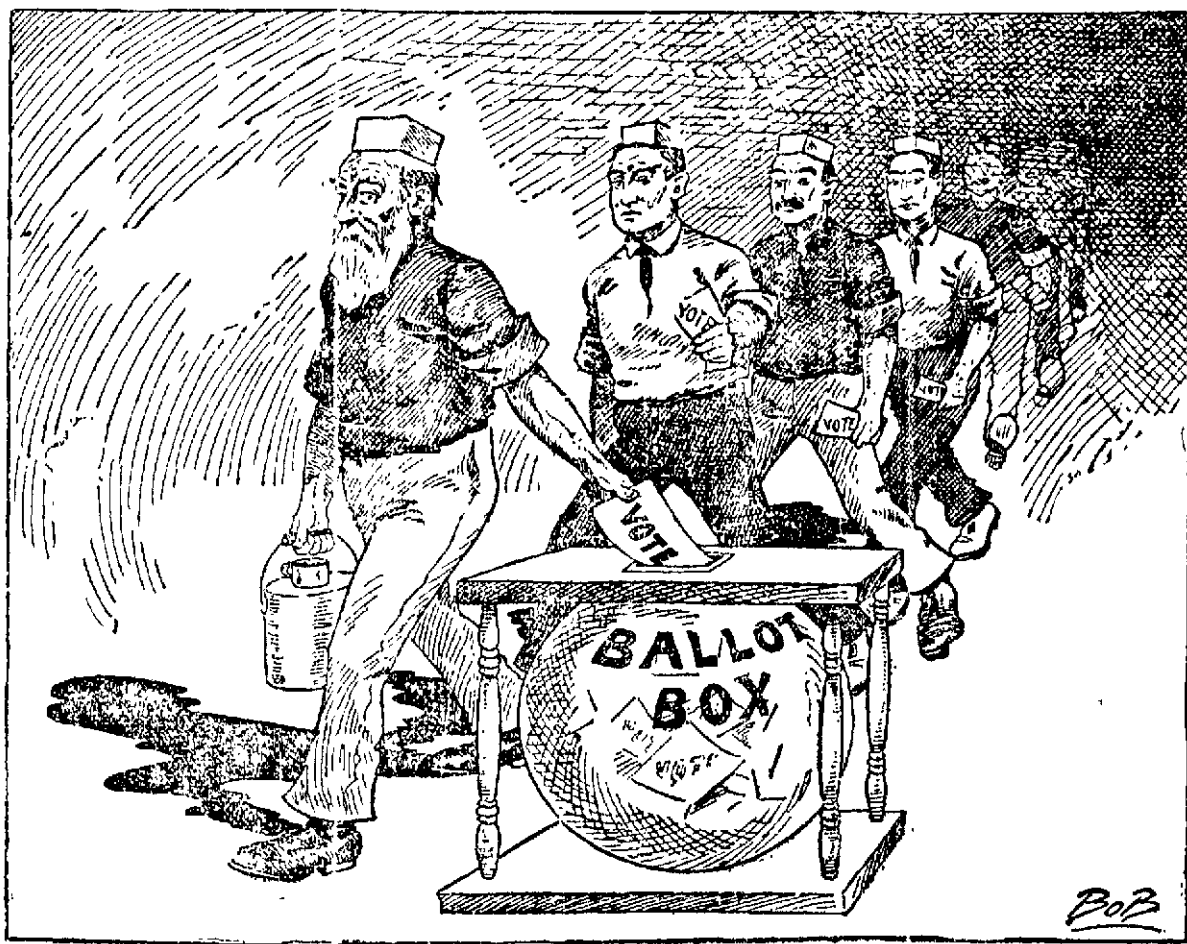

Some Peculiar Aids to Justice.

It may be assumed that the sneaks and liars who have been tampering with veniemen in San Francisco by direction of William J. Burns are members of the band of twenty-five private detectives saddled on the taxpayers at the instance of Rudolph Spreckels. It is quite in keeping with the methods which have characterized the so-called graft prosecution from the time Spreckels made his night treaty with Boodler Gallagher at the Presidio that Burns should have grafted a month's back pay, together with $102 for contingent expenses, the moment he got on the city's payroll. Probably he would have reached further for back pay if the law had not halted him at July 1. The spectacle of the city hiring rascals to tamper with juries is an edifying one. Lawler and Schindler, the worthies engaged in the business, confess to being liars and sneaks. Lawler cheerfully admitted on the stand that he had circulated by false representation a fake petition to the Attorney-General among veniemen supposed to be lacking in sympathy with the methods and objects of Spreckels, Heney and Burns. He forged names on the petition, he said "just to get it started." He lied like a hog to every man he met. His admitted object was to disqualify jurors suspected of leaning toward the defense or of not approving the immunity deals with the hoodling Supervisors. He never disqualifies, one may rest assured, veniemen he found prejudiced against the defense or partisans of the prosecution. He was sent out to assist in a jury-packing scheme, to make certain that only men determined in advance to convict should sit on the jury. His work was to lie and cave-drop and sneak into men's confidence by false representations. It is axiomatic that a man who will lie to gain another's confidence will lie about anything else, and particularly in regard to utterance he is commissioned to draw out. And this is the sort of foul work the city is paying Burns' dirty crew to perform. And the knaves are so hardened and calloused that they are not even ashamed of their work.

The Lincoln-Roosevelt Leaguers profess a desire for Taft's election, but it is significant that very little is said about Taft at their meetings and nothing about Sherman. The burden of the speeches is abuse of the Republican Senators and Representatives, the Republican State administration and the Republican State organization. President Roosevelt is lauded as a pretext for vilifying the Republican party in California and its leaders. But Taft is treated as a mere pawn in the game, a sort of head waiter to the President. He is treated simply as a reflection and deputy for Roosevelt, and very little time is wasted on him at that. It is asserted, however, that the Republican organization in this State is hopelessly corrupt and the slave of corporate wealth. This aids and abets the Bryan campaign, and puts obstacles in the way of Taft's campaign in California.

"Why don't Hobson quit bothering about the possibility of war between Japan and the United States?" querulously asks a temporary. Because Hobson would then cease to attract public attention. It is only by keeping up a frenzied clamor that war is imminent and inevitable that Hobson can keep from being forgotten. And to be forgotten would be worse than death to Hobson, who possesses a diseased appetite for notoriety.

CONTRIBUTIONS THAT WILL COUNT THE MOST

—HOUSTON CHRONICLE.

Encouraging Enterprise by Harringing Capital.

It is all very fine to rail at American railroads and steamship companies flying the American flag, but it loses its savor when one sees the Oriental trade passing through Canadian ports or across the Isthmus of Tehuantepec, San Francisco Bay and Puget Sound being cut out of the traffic, and going east over foreign rails. Utopian dreams of running American railroads and steamships on altruistic principles may be indulged in without limit, but when trade not only leaves American transportation lines, but American ports and American routes, they lose their rosy aspect. Calling Hill and Harriman names cannot compensate for the loss of sea and land traffic deflected to Canadian and Mexican routes by the imposition of conditions which make it impossible for American railways and steamships to compete on even terms with foreign transportation lines. We cannot make up for loss of trade by damning Harriman and Hill, however much that delusive idea may obtain credence. The Pacific Mail Company lost nearly half a million last year by reason of decreased business. Others lost money, too. One may rejoice that a Harriman concern has lost money, but when Harriman's loss means a much larger loss in the way of trade and profit to the cities around San Francisco Bay and to American industries the matter assumes a different aspect. It may be advisable and justifiable to cut off Harriman's nose and Hill's ears, but to achieve those laudable and humane objects by disemboweling the trade of California seaports smacks of folly and suicide. But there are people who deem that folly and suicide are ways of promoting prosperity and enterprise.

CITY WRECKED BY 35 DAY'S FIGHTING

American Missionaries in Tabriz in Constant Danger From Bombardment.

TABRIZ, Persia, Aug. 6.—There has now been thirty-five days' fighting in the streets of Tabriz, and the casualties, due chiefly to bombs thrown from mortars and shrapnel, are estimated at 800. Many of the finer residences of the city and hundreds of shops have been looted, the loss being placed at more than $1,000,000.

The American missionaries in the city have been exposed to stray bullets, but although they have had some narrow escapes, none of them have been injured. During one of the heavier bombardments a piece of shrapnel fell in a garden within a few feet of one of the mission servants. BITTER FEUD.

There is a very bitter feud going on between the Constitutional Progressives who hold the eleven wards of the city, and the Reactionaries who hold one large ward. The mass of the people, however, have informed the central government that they are now opposed to the Shah. Those who are zealous for the continuance of the old regime regard the Constitutional Progressives as revolutionaries. The local assembly or Anjuman, did, on one occasion, express sedition views, but later acknowledged the supremacy of the Shah, and adjourned indefinitely in token of submission.

OFFICERS FIND HEAD OF A MURDERED BOY

Identification Has Now Been Made Possible.

CHICAGO, Aug. 6.—The mysterious murder of the boy whose lower limbs and torso were found Tuesday and yesterday was somewhat clarified today by the finding of the head of the victim. The hacked and severed limbs were found in Mud Lake, the torso a mile and a half from that place under a bridge, and the head was fished out of the drainage canal a considerable distance below the bridge today. The police declare that the identification of the victim is now possible. Acting on the theory that the murder was the work of padrones attacked in the recent prosecution of Greek "boy slaves," one arrest was made today, that of a Greek known as an importer of boys from Greece. The police refuse to divulge the name of their prisoner until further investigation.

REFLECTIONS OF A BACHELOR

The way to get a woman to prove she's jealous is to wait for her to say she isn't.

Most people who inherit money from their relatives deserve it for having had them.

When a man can sneak home at night without waking his wife it's because she hasn't gone to bed yet.

A girl has a good time waiting for her best beau to come and when he is there a bad time anticipating when he will be gone.

If a man can be lucky enough to save any money out of his year's work he can be unlucky enough to spend it twice over on his vacation.

SOCIETY SMART SET

Ball in Honor of Eastern Guest An Event of Last Evening

Berkeley Girl Entertains in Honor of Friend Who Is Back From East

The dance given in the ball room of the Emmons home on Union street, Alameda, last evening was one of the smartest affairs of the season.

The guests in the Emmons household include Mrs. H. H. Countess and her two daughters, Miss Louise and Miss Anna of Chicago. The Countess family were former residents of Alameda and their visit to their former home will be the incentive for many delightful times.

Mrs. Countess and her daughters have just returned from Lake Tahoe where they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. Bassett at their summer home.

The affair of last evening was given in honor of Miss Louise Countess and a most pleasant evening meeting former friends was enjoyed. Cards were issued to about one hundred friends and a large number responded.

Miss Gladys and Miss Marjorie Emmons were assisted in receiving their guests by the Misses Alice Teller, Alice Maurer, Ruth Tisdale, Roberta Haslett, Bessie Yates, Edna Hickox, May Nason and Adele Ehtenburg.

BABY PARTY.
The dearest little party was that given by Mrs. E. B. Benson yesterday afternoon when she entertained in honor of Master Charles Radford Sessions of Los Angeles, aged nine months; John Miller Fowle of Mexico and Frank Alexander Runnels of Tonopah, Nevada.

The little guests who were invited to share the pleasures of the afternoon were Hart De Witt Wood, Lucille Marie Spangler, Doris Dean of San Francisco; Danon Lewis, Dorothy Friend, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Friend and Robert McDonald.

The invitations for the party were hand painted cards representing oranges and orange blossoms. The decorations were all of yellow and the favors given the little guests were celluloid oranges.

The nine babies were on their very best behavior not a cry or scowl marring the afternoon's enjoyment, which is unusual when it is considered that their ages ranged from seven to seventeen months.

The young guests were accompanied by their mamma and grandmamma, who were much interested in discussing the abilities of their particular little ones.

Refreshments were served the adults at the conclusion of the afternoon.

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 4.—There is a rumor to the effect that the hop growers and dealers in this and Yolo counties will hold a meeting in this city in a few days to take drastic action to steady the hop market which it is claimed is now suffering through overproduction.

The movement which is said to be under way contemplates bringing the growers and dealers of the entire Pacific Coast in line with a view of letting a portion of this year's crop, possibly 20 to 25 per cent, go unpledged. It is understood that after the meeting the growers in Mendocino and Sonoma counties will be approached and then those of the State of Oregon and Washington.

Thomas placed the following advertisement in a newspaper this morning: "Little Anna, one of the most beautiful of Boston terriers in the country, died of heart failure Sunday evening, July 28, 1908. She was a sweet-mannered and lovely companion. Her master is deeply grieved at his loss. Many offers were made for her. She was priceless and not for sale."

In the first suit Miss Collins sued owing to alleged injuries received while employed as a stenographer for the company. She was awarded $1625. The brokerage company declares it will fight both cases to a finish.

IT IS SERIOUS

Some Oakland People Fail to Realize the Seriousness.

The constant aching of a bad back. The weariness, the tired feeling. The pains and aches of kidney ills. Are serious—if neglected. Dangerous urinary troubles follow. An Oakland citizen shows you how to avoid them.

Mrs. A. Carlson, living at 1841 West street, Oakland, Cal., says:

"I give my experience with Doan's Kidney Pills for the benefit of other sufferers of kidney trouble. I had been suffering from this complaint for a long time. There were sharp pains in my back which would always be more severe if I took any cold in the winter. After coming here the symptoms were more pronounced and accompanied by a weakness of the kidneys, headaches and dizzy spells. I doctored a great deal but did not succeed in finding relief until Doan's Kidney Pills were brought to my attention, and I began taking them. I have used the pills on several occasions since when feeling a return of the trouble, and I have never been disappointed in the results received. It gives me great pleasure to endorse such a valuable remedy as Doan's Kidney Pills."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

The interest on the bonds

Some folks ask how they may know that the interest will be paid on the bonds

Interest on bonds is a fixed charge

We will set it in capitals so you will remember it

FIXED CHARGE

There are certain operating expenses connected with all railways which must be met or the railway cannot be operated

Those expenses are called "fixed charges" and they must be paid before anything else

There's power which propels the cars—in this case it is electricity

There's the maintenance-of-way—that is, the road must always be kept in condition or the cars cannot run

There's the repair to the cars, the maintenance of the rolling stock, the stations, the employees necessary to conduct the business

These are all "fixed charges," they cannot be evaded

They must be paid promptly or the railway cannot be operated

One of these "fixed charges" is the interest on the bonds

That, too, must be met promptly when due

The bond holder is a preferred creditor

Should the interest not be paid he can force payment or stop operations

The bond holder is in an entirely different position from the stock holder

The stock holder is liable for his ratio of the indebtedness of the corporation in proportion to the number of shares owned

The bond holder has no such responsibility—he is in the superior position of holding the whip-hand

For every thousand dollars' worth of Debenture Notes issued by the Northern Electric Railway Company

We have deposited with the Mercantile Trust Company of San Francisco two things, each of them worth more than the bonds issued, as follows:

$1500 in Northern Electric Railway Company 40 year 5 per cent gold bonds

$2000 worth preferred shares in the Northern Electric Railway Company

That is three and one-half thousand dollars worth of the securities of this Company against which are issued one thousand dollars in the Debenture Notes

Over $6,000,000 have been invested in the Northern Electric Railway

Provision is made for the payment of the interest as it accrues by including it amongst the fixed charges

One of the expenses to be paid by the earnings of the road now running, and not dependent upon the building of further extensions, or any other source of income

You can see the road running

You can ride on it

You can ship express or freight over it

You can feel and realize and know that the Northern Electric Railway is an established enterprise

That is has 180 miles of railway now in operation

That its trains run on regular schedule

That its passenger cars are well patronized

That its express and freight business is already large, and growing

You need no other eyes or senses to explain these things

Your own observation is sufficient

You buy Northern Electric Railway Company Bonds (secured coupon notes) with full confidence that the interest—7 per cent—will be paid you semi-annually and that the principle will be met when due

And if redeemed before maturity that you will be paid a premium of 2 1/2 per cent

Where can you find an investment equal to it in solidity and in earning power?

This woman says that sick women should not fail to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as she did.

Mrs. A. Gregory, of 2355 Lawrence St., Denver, Col., writes to Mrs. Pinkham:

"I was practically an invalid for six years, on account of female troubles. I underwent an operation by the doctor's advice, but in a few months I was worse than before. A friend advised Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it restored me to perfect health, such as I have not enjoyed in many years. Any woman suffering as I did with backache, bearing-down pains, and periodic pains, should not fail to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness or nervous prostration. Why don't you try it?

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

The General Demand

of the Well-Informed of the World has always been for a simple, pleasant and efficient liquid laxative remedy of known value; a laxative which physicians could sanction for family use because its component parts are known to them to be wholesome and truly beneficial in effect, acceptable to the system and gentle, yet prompt, in action.

In supplying that demand with its excellent combination of Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, the California Fig Syrup Co. proceeds along ethical lines and relies on the merits of the laxative for its remarkable success.

That is one of many reasons why Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna is given the preference by the Well-Informed. To get its beneficial effects always buy the genuine—manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, and for sale by all leading druggists. Price fifty cents per bottle.

PARKER IS BURNS MEN TO FIGHT AT THE TRUSTS

Delivers His First Speech of Entire Force of Spreckels' Private Sleuths Are Voraciously and Contentedly Eating at the Taxes.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 6. — Judge Alton B. Parker, Democratic candidate for President in 1904, delivered his first speech of the present campaign in behalf of William J. Bryan and Kern before an audience of 2000 people at Temple Auditorium last night.

When the former Democratic candidate arose to address the audience he was given an ovation. His speech was punctuated with applause. Judge Parker did not mention the name of Bryan and Kern but he paid them both high compliments as the candidates of the Democratic party.

"We have at the head of the Democratic ticket," said he, "two men of well known character, one of whom is especially well known, and who in season and out, has fought against the relations between government and corrupt corporations. And with him is associated a man whom I have known personally since 1895 and who, in my judgment is in every way worthy of his associate, and who in case of an emergency of the kind should arise, which God forbid, would be in a position to take up the standard and carry it on."

TALKS ABOUT TARIFF. Speaking upon the issues of the campaign, Judge Parker devoted practically his entire speech to the tariff, which he denominated the one great question of the hour, and the subject of campaign contributions by corporations.

Upon these subjects he said: "There is one great question of all questions to be solved by the electorate in the coming campaign. Many years ago a small black cloud appeared upon the horizon of this country. It was a very small one then but it has grown now to one of giant and menacing proportions. A tariff was imposed for the ostensible protection of infant industries, which has been extended and enlarged until under it it has grown up a system which now has the country completely within its grasp.

"The steel industry, under the guise of building up a business, has levied a frightful tribute upon all the people. What the steel trust has done, hundreds of other trusts have done in greater or less degree. The great majority of our people, struggling perils with a daily pitance, have been compelled to pay tribute to these giant corporations.

WANTED A CHANGE.

"After the election was over in 1904 I made up my mind when I saw the wholesale corruption of government by corporations, that it was time to fight this alliance. I went to New York city and joined there with three

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 6. — Twenty-three of the twenty-five "assistant special agents" whom District Attorney Langdon was authorized by the Supervisors to appoint at $150 a month are already drawing salary, even as the chief "special agent," William J. Burns, is drawing his $255 a month and expenses. The District Attorney himself, though he is sponsor for the appointments, seems to know little about them. In reply to a question he said:

"We have simply taken over Mr. Burns' old force. That is all I know of the matter."

BURNS' SON IN SOFT JOES. The first name on the list of the "assistant special agents" is that of C. F. Stanton, who is followed by R. J. Burns. The second is William J. Burns' son, quite a lad yet, but whom with a pardonable paternal pride, his father takes occasion to put in the way of doing an important work as possible. It was this young man who was sent to Europe by his father on the trail of former Mayor Schmitz, when the latter took the memorable trip from which he returned to face his indictments.

SINGER IS ON LIST. Third on the list of "special assistants" is R. Spaulding, and then comes J. J. Westcott, formerly a policeman, and not long in Burns' service. Next are J. H. Perry, William Rothwell, A. G. Whitney, W. H. Street, J. Compton, Lawrence Gold, R. C. Schindler, D. F. Coel, Daniel McCarthy, W. A. Corneau and C. F. Oliver. The last named is "Charlie" Oliver, rather well known about town as a singer not averse to displaying his talent in merry company.

A little further down the list appears the name of C. F. Oliver Jr., his son, who, while now entitled with his father to draw his $150 detective salary, is little more than a boy. Others of the new appointments are F. A. Pratt, R. N. Hamilton and J. G. Lawler, the last named a former newspaper man.

RUEF'S GUARDS INCLUDED.

Then comes another Schindler, his initials being W. S., and after him W. H. Russell, J. F. McCarthy and M. L. Doyle comprise the list. McCarthy and Doyle, it may be stated, have been in "the prosecution's" service for a long time, both having served as guards for Alvin Karpis during the period when that individual slept, walked, ate and drank his being generally under the watchful eyes of former Elmer Murphy, now Chief of Police.

Four men of patriotic impulse and we fought for and obtained the enactment of a state law prohibiting campaign contributions by corporations. What I wanted then, and what I want now, is a similar Federal statute that will apply to corporations of the whole country.

"You should send to Washington a President who is in favor of turning down the trusts, and with a congress back of him who will help to do it."

ELOPES with sister ELOPER

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—Another marriage tie has bound the family of H. Clay Pierce, the Standard Oil magnate, to that of James A. Deering, a lawyer, with offices at 135 Broadway. Theron F. Pierce, a young real estate broker and one of the oil man's two sons, has upheld the gallantry of Harvard by wedding the sister of James A. Deering, Yale, '02, who eloped with his sister, Violet, when the stern trust organizer had the girl under strict guard.

WAS HARVARD MAN.

Theron Pierce, familiarly known as "Teeny" at Harvard, recently formed a partnership with Robert A. White in the real estate business, with offices at 123 Broadway. Just where he is at present none of the Pierce family seems willing to say. It is reported that the young man married the sister of his brother-in-law in much the same manner as the first Pierce-Deering ceremony was performed, except that the Rev. Dr. William C. Rodgers of St. Agnes' Chapel did not officiate in the second wedding.

Much mystery is being made over the affair by both families. Neither the family of the young bridegroom nor that of his convent-bred bride will discuss the marriage, except to admit that it took place last Sunday. At the elder Mr. Pierce's apartment, in the Hotel Plaza, and at the Deering home, 309 Riverside drive, no information as to the whereabouts of the young couple could be obtained.

THEN THE DINNER.

Later another inquirer at the Deering home was introduced to a young man who said he was Mr. Pierce, and had nothing to say regarding the wedding. There was a dinner party of six, including two young women, at the time, and still later in the evening Mr. Deering's secretary again said he had no information about the wedding.

Miss May Deering had expected to spend the summer with her parents in Europe.

The romantic marriage of Miss Violet Pierce and James A. Deering, Yale, '02, was a great surprise to society last March, as well as to the bride's relatives, none of whom witnessed the ceremony. She had been popular in society in the winter, and when Henry Clay Pierce discovered that his daughter's chaperon had been helping along her love affair with young Deering he dispensed with her services. Mr. Pierce had consented, however, it is said, to his daughter's marriage after Easter. His other son is Roy B. Pierce, a member of the same Harvard class as his brother.

Tell Your Wife Funny Story, Judge Says to Grouchy Husband

CHICAGO.—"And if you can't think of anything else to say, tell her a funny story."

That was the wind-up of a bunch of judicial instructions passed out to Frank Liska, 8709 Escaraba avenue, in the South Chicago police court. Liska, according to his wife, who was appearing against him as the result of domestic strife, had not spoken to her for three straight months. Municipal Judge Terri continued the case until August 14, and then proceeded to pay a little conversation out of the defendant. Quoth the court:

"Now, look here! You can't let this silence business go on any longer. I hereby order you to speak to your wife every day—no snarling, understand. Talk on any old subject, and if you can't think of anything else to say, tell her a funny story. Remember, I'm talking business, and if you don't obey I'll give you a good, stiff line."

Liska started in right away. On going out he was heard to remark to Mrs. Liska that the stairs were crooked.

Love Letters in Slander Lawsuit Cost $8000

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—As the result of the finding of a bundle of love letters alleged to have been written by Miss Grace Raymond, a former Sunday School teacher of Mount Vernon, to Patrick J. Ring, Supreme Court Justice Tompkins, at White Plains, landed down a decision settling aside the judgment of $5000 obtained by Miss Raymond against Mrs. Naomi Ducombe Ring, known as Mount Vernon's "millionaire" and granted Mrs. Ring a new trial of the action.

Miss Raymond sued Mr. Ring for $25,000 damages for slander, alleging she had accused her of coming out of Ring's room in the Mount Vernon Opera House, of which he was manager, and had also called her names. The bundle of love letters, which she testified at the trial in Miss Raymond's behalf, and so said his relations with Miss Raymond were perfectly proper.

The trial of the slander suit occurred in April, 1907. A couple of weeks ago the Appellate Division set aside the decision of $5000 worth of property which Mrs. Ring had given Ring on the eve of her marriage to him on the ground of fraud and undue influence.

Justice Tompkins in his decision says:

"This motion for a new trial is made upon the ground of evidence alleged to have been discovered after the trial, in the form of letters, which it is claimed were written by the plaintiff to the said Patrick J. Ring, and were found in the pocketbook which is conceded to have been the property of Ring, in a room which he occupied as bedroom in the said opera house. The letters are love letters pure and simple."

"In view of the fact that the amount of the verdict clearly indicates a finding by the jury that the plaintiff was a woman of good morals and innocent of any misconduct with Ring, it seems to me that the result would have been different had the jury had before it the letters upon which this motion is based, if the letters are proven to have been written by the plaintiff, because, if they were written by the plaintiff to Ring, there is only one reasonable deduction to be made from them."

"If the letters are genuine and show the true relations existing between the plaintiff and Ring prior to and at the time of the alleged slander, it can hardly be seriously argued that a jury would give any such verdict as was given at the former trial."

SCULPTOR RODIN Takes Peep

AT ELINOR GLYN'S LONG SECOND TOE THROUGH OPEN-WORK STOCKING

PARIS.—Highly interesting was the meeting between Mrs. Elinor Glyn, author of "Three Weeks," and Rodin, in his studio in the Rue Universite. Mrs. Glyn was unexpected and the visit, a complete surprise to Rodin, who welcomed her in his working jacket and his hands daubed with clay.

Mrs. Glyn looked radiant in a light summer costume. It was a case of love at first sight. Mrs. Glyn, who derives her inspirations from the Greeks, was charmed with the artist, whose genius most nearly represents Greek perfection. She told him he reminded her of the Capitoline, with his massive brow and noble beard. Rodin smiled modestly while his visitor moved through the large studio like a nymph, examining with the greatest zest Rodin's latest works, even to the smallest details, and delighting the artist by her shrewd criticisms and piquant remarks.

She was especially pleased with the bust of Lady Warwick, turning to view it from every angle and exclaiming: "Why, it is her very self. It is all but living, and you have caught her in one of her happiest moods."

Mrs. Glyn, noticing he had made a statue with the second toe longer than the first, asked him if that were typical of the Greeks. Rodin replied in the negative, saying he thought it a personal peculiarity rather than denoting race.

Certain types of Mediterranean races had it, but it was also sometimes found, he said, in people of the north, marking in them some special refinement.

Tears in Pretty Brown Eyes Melts Heart of Stern Judge

DENVER.—When May Vaughn, an 18-year-old beauty, confronted Magistrate Stapleton in his office pleading for the release of her brother, who was serving a sentence for disturbance, the justice was plainly perplexed. In a meditative mood he stroked his chin repeatedly as the pretty girl appealed to him for her brother's freedom.

"He has always been a good boy and worked hard to support me. He is my only support and we have always been so happy together," she said. "Please, judge, give him a trial and I promise you that you will never see him in your court again," and the tears welled up into the pretty brown eyes.

Still the judge stroked his chin while his Solomon-like brow retained its thoughtful appearance. He glanced at the pretty girl before him as if to speak, and quickly his eyes sought the papers before him again. Presently, with affected sternness, "I'm afraid that nothing can be done. Your brother will know better next time and the punishment will have a good effect on him."

But the sister had not inquired the way to the office of the police magistrate from half a dozen strangers and waited for an hour in the outside office for nothing.

Rubbing her eyes with a dainty bit of cambric she continued: "I don't know what I will do without him. He is all I have to live for and with him in this nasty place life won't be worth living."

"Let me be bondsman for him," I pledge my word he will never appear before you again."

After several minutes more of silent meditation the face of the magistrate broke into a kindly smile as he reached for his pen and release pad. "I'll accept your word for his bond," he said, as he made out the paper for the release.
